

David Spielman 1/31/24

This logic shows what happens when an individual attempts a password up to 3 attempts, and at the 3rd failed attempt they are locked out of their account. If they enter the correct password within 3 attempts they are allowed to enter their account.

